THE SUBTREASURY BILL AND MR MABBIN'S RERIVIE

Previous to the lest Speech of Mr. Webgier the impression was evidently strong and delly becomen strenger that the Sub-Treasury Bill would pars into a Law, in spite of all efforts to prevent it, and in spite of the kn an the delivery of that great argument, a change of opinion cleuis to have been effected upon the subject, and the tone of the Washington correspondence is much altered. The littest lef ters from Washington express the strongest confidence of the defeat of the Bill in the Senate. It is exceed that the unaugworable resenting of Mr. Welutes has induced the determination on the part of a number of Senators, previous. ly in lavor of the whole Bill (enough, with the Whige, to constitute a majority) to insist upon The excitision of its most obnesious prevision.

We are strongly induced to the belief that this may be so. We believe, and we are sorry to differ an this point, from our friend of the "Atlas," that there are those, among the friends of the administration and the past ad--vocates of the Sub-Treasury scheme, in the Senate, who have the "intellect to judge, and the conscience to act, according to their convictions" and we think there is reason to hope, that the unparalleled effort of the Great New England Statesman, may have brought that intellect into salutary operation, and arousgrant, that our hope may not prove delusive !

~ Mr. Wiss. We publish below the testimony of the Hon Henry A. Wise Swore the Committec appointed to investigate the cause of the godib of the Stun Isnathan Cities BUATEMENT.

The Hon Jonathan Cilley, late a member of the Ibra .. of Repres atabees, felt in a duel with the Hom. Wm. J. Graves, fairly fought betypen the house of 3, and 4 P. On the morning of the 28d, Mr. Graves in formed me that he had called on Mr. Cilley, and requested him to put his answer in writing; that Mr. Cilley had requested him first to address Wir (Mr., Cilley) a note, inquiring what he had anid; that he had written bun a note, (the first in their correspondence.) and handed it to him to person; and that for answer la had received the first note of Mr. Cilley, which he then exhibited to me. Mr. Graves was highly incen- & wishes of nine worths at the People. But since at the tenor of this note, and I control that it greatly surprised me, after what Mr. Graves told pie he had eaid verbaity in their interviews? Mr. Graves regarded the note.

First: As denying what he had alledged to his friends that Mr Cilley had said to him in CONDCILION.

Secondly: As contemptuous and insulting to Col. Webb, whose note he had borne.

Thirdly : As placing Mr. Genves-himself in the Trumiliating attitude of supplication to him, Mr. Cilley, to relieve him (Mr. Graves) from an unpleasant situation." Fourthly ; As saying, in effect, 'I do not recognise Col. Webb to be a gentleman, sir, but respect you amone ; thereby inviting Mr. Graves to substitute himself for Col. Webb.

Such was the construction which Mr Graves put upon the letter, and I could not see, and cannot now see, what other construction he the conversations which he averred had passed previously between them. It seems wholly inhad passed between them previously. But up. ever anxious for delay, as were his other friends. prepared his second letter, and sent it to Mr powderflask, with powder and ball in it, lying Cilley by the Hon. Mr. Menefee, as he has on my table since informed me. I know nothing of what passed between Mr. Cilley and Mr. Menelee.

During the sitting of the House on the 22d, between the hours of 3 P. M. and 4 P. M. 1 think, Mr Graves came to me with Mr. Cilley's service of Mr. Graves. confer wit h him again on the subject; and returned to my seat to attend to the discussion of evening; soon after which it adjourned.

Mr. Graves walked with me from the Capitol to my boarding house. I then repeated hom Canada had reached London, as late as the my objections to be the bearer of his challenge and insisted that I would not bear it that evening; that I wanted time for reflection; that I could not do that service, under any circumstances, except for an intimate friend, as such a friend, who had in fact shown every statement. disposition to stand by me upon trying occasions; but I hoped that something might yet be done to avoid the alternative he had chosen ; and that I must be permitted to delay the delivery of it until the next day if I delivered it at all. I prevailed on him to wait unagain : said that nothing had occurred to alter his determination : took the challenge and changed its phraseology; (I have not a copy of the first put into my hands, nor do I recollect its terms; and insisted that I should deliver personal property alone was over £2,300,000; it before the Higner met on the 23d of Februthe duty on which may be calculated on the ary. He said, "I will receive it, ein." I handed him the challenge; he read it and said, "Mr Pierce, or some other friend, sir, will hand Mr Graveo my answer." I bowed; and we parted. I went immediately to the House, and in the evening, after its adjournment, Mr Jones came to my room, and handed Mr Cilley's acceptance to Mr Graves, as described in our joint statement. Mr Graves, expecting to have to fight with pistols, had come to his fuon to examine a pair I had, and see whether they would soit him. He had not been practised in the use of any weapon, he told me, and destred me to have my pistols put in order to go out with him next morning, and instruct him how to use them.

Soon after, Mr Jones furnished me with the terms of the meeting, I left my room with Mr. Menefee, who had come in just as Mr. Jones and I were parting, about 6 P. M., 1 think, to show the terms to apine of Mr. Graves's friends, and to submit to them whether they should be accepted. They were condemned as clined; but it was thought that they were intended to intimidate; that the distance was so great as, in some measure, to mitigate - resily of the weapon, and, therefore ses advised that they should be accepted indeed, it we thought that the acceptance of each terms might avoid the duel altogitter, insernuch as the plain object of such prapositions was either to a ske the duel faint. what bin for having done are on the ground or to dike Mr. Grave free scott by the proposing was mest likely to fly from the Allout 2 o'clock, at night, Mr Menefee came would not main the jeoparded Mr. Grave to my room, awoke me out of sleep, and informed me that Mr. Graves's friends had procured for him a rifle; but, he said, it was in exceedingly bad order. The owner of it has since told the that it had not been used for more than eighteen months, and it was very routy. I dir of shots, and after the rifles were ordered to be recited Muncleu-te-bree it ateared as easily as again traded for the third fire, the shall sign possible, and that it must be tried in the morning! wlore Mr. Graves's life was hexarded on it.

Early the next anorning, I went to the room of the Hon, Mr. Hawes, where, according to appointment with Mr. Menelee the night pred ty or indirectly. In making this properation, I winted to meet Mr. Giaves Not west beyond my matrix tions: but, as I under finding Mr. Graven there, I returned to Mas stood Mr. Jones, Mr. Citley would not say those Queen's, my own boarding house, to breaklast, and found on my table, about 8 o'clock. A. M. the note of Mr. Jones, informing up that he would be at Dr. Reilly's untill It o glock, A. M. on the 24th.

At 10 o'clock, A. M., I went to Dr. Reilly's. and wrote Mr. Jones a note, that Mr Gravescould not be ready by 12 M, and that I would settling the difference. But here it is proper to inform him by 121-2 M, when he could be ready. I was still auxious to delay the meeting, and desirous to throw obstacles in the way of it for hoth sides. A debute was likely to ensur, and, that day. At about 10 1-2 A. M. I found Mr lest a dispute or difference should arise among Graves at the arsenal, where he went to have the rifle cleaned, and I saw him try it several should consult apart with the respective seconds, times at a mark. He was extremely awkward, and that the seconds should be the organs of ancould have put upon it taken in connection with shot badly, and I by no means liked the rifle he had., I leared very much the consequences of going out with him under such a total want of reconcitable with, and contradictory to what preparation and saill, and was still more than on due consideration he determined to offer Mr. But on my return to my room, about 111-2 A. Cilley again an opportunity to explain. He M , I found two notes from Mr. Jones a lifts, a

The first note, dated 104 A. M., in reply to mine of 10 A. M., stated that Mr. Jones had the pleasure to inform ' the that he had "an excellent rifle, in good order, which was at the service of Mr. Grapes. The second mote, reply, in which, he denied the right of Mr. which had not been delayed for an answer to the Graves to propound the question in his second first, dated half of an hour only after the first, note, and regested me to bear to Mr. Cilley a tendered to me, "for the use of Mr. Graves, the challenge, which he had already written and ride referred to," and there were the rifle and act of mine there, and throughout the whole arwhich he placed in my hands. I expressed my its appendages. These notes and that rifle has that, met with their approbation, and that of Mr. ed that conscience into beatthy action. Heaven reluctance to be the bearer; told him I would sened the meeting. I dared delay no longer, Graves. without danger of a launt of cowardice. Graves should have gone upon the ground after the bill in relation to the disturbances on the this under every dis-dvantage; but he should Canadian frontier. I addressed the House-that not have used the rifle sent him because, though not terminated this shot, and is not settled, I had, of course, preferred unother to it; and it Mr. Graves had missed with it, and been killed, I would have been justly chargeable with his death. The meeting was then to be had as soon as Mr. Graves' rifle could be cleaned, as a sur geon could be got, and as soon as the parties confidence is field out of the District of Column who would make a like sacrifice, and incur a bia. I saw Mr. Jones immediately, and we like responsibility for me; that I regarded him agreed upon 3 o'clock P. M. as said in our joint

A returned to Mr. Hawes' room, where Mr. Graves was, and informed him of the appointment. He then selected the Hon. John J. Crit. tenden, of the Senate, and the Hon. R. H. Menifee, of the House, as the friends whom I was to consult. Mr Graves retiged, and whilst the rifle was being cleaned, I then submitted to Mr Crittenden and Mr Menitee the question distinctly that should be done in case the parties missed? We were all sure that Mr Graves would miss often.

I understood positively from Mr. Graves that he would not be estimbed with any admission short of Obat Mr. Cilley, had made to him, verbally, in their interviews. Our object, then was to adopt or suggest some form, or explanatian, or admission, which should be as easy as possible for Mr. Citley to make; and which should satisfy Mr. Graves. - This was our study fire, I should propose to Mr. Cilley, or his sec. and, that he should assign some such reason, or make some such disclaimer, for declining to receive Col. Webb's note from Mr. Graves, as he had made to Mr. Graves in their private conversation. Mr. Crittenden and Mr. Menelee wrote down what they thought Mr. Graves the note from Col. Webb, Mr. Cilley was not influenced by any considerations affecting the honor of Col. Webb." The other wrote:

should be satisfied with. The one wrote:

"Mr Cilley states that he did not decline to receive Col. Webb's communication from Mr. Craves in consequence of any personal exception to Gol. Webb as a gentleman or man of

To which I added-another form of admission, which should be accepted as satisfactory :-"Mr. Cilley declined to receive the commu nication from Col. Webb at the hands of Mr. Graves, upon the ground that he, Mr. Ciller. did not hold himself answerable for words apoken in debate, on the floor of the House of Representatives."....

"These, or any admissions approaching in substance to these, were to be considered . Tipfactory. I carried the written propositions with use, in my pocket, on the ground. The reason why Mr Graves would not be satisfied with anything short of these, was, because he alleged that Mr. Cilley had nade both these ud ... issions to his verbutty.

As to what 'transpired in the field,' Ac. &c. I must refer generally to the states, at publish ed by Mr. Jones and myself. But, as that elate-ment is one of what occurred within our-joint kace-dags, besides the correspondence given upon information of others; I have a few particulars within my own knowledge.

The different apprinted an eighty suice, it is my ficin belief that the distance stepped off by Mr. Jones and myself, which we did " pari pagsu," was near tota hundred yards than regular. His friends. Mr. Grupes held has accounting the ground was creatured before the choice of his friends. Mr. Grupes held has accounting positions, and i helieve we both stepped with a in defices only of his upon tenerity and of the positions, and i helieve we both stepped with a in defices only of his upon tenerity and of the control other. The choice of position fell to niv lot. The giving of the word fell to Mr. Jones.

I kept my eye upon Mr. Cilley; it was my duty to 47e that he obeyed the rules. At the free exchange of shots, I thought that he fired. through perfectly fair, too hurriedly, and his ball did not reach Mr. Craves, because he did not raise his rifle nufficiently, high. Mr. Graves direct after Mr. Cillege - 👾 As the rifle was put into No. Cilley's hands the second time, I saw, though I could not hear, Mr. Jones giving he discourant as hillipught, to be more deliberate. Light heard that he was a fine shorkinan, and I has extracely avange for the result. The word was given, Mr Graves a rife went off quickly, and, as he told me after a seds, se der nially, and into the ground. leared a fee ly dot, and he investigately acced.

Icared a fee ly dot, and he investigately acceded to the language language of declary, of the day, o his he the fighe would be so toen at an enge life, and would have naved his own. Mr. Graves was not, however, touched by his bell, and I again untides... the stallings, -s 'sfera, f. r ago pinontion.

It was last ween the abound and third exchange having been renewed, that I proposed to Mr Jones that Mr. Cilley should hay that, in declaimy to receive Culonel' Webb's note, he meant no distrapred to Mr. Graves, either sirestwent beyond my matructions; but, as I under words alone, nor without adding words which did away the effect of the word undirectly,' and which lets the parties exactly where they were when they came upon the ground.

The atatement of Mr. Joney and my self contains substantially all the propositions which remember to have been made on the field for remark, that, when list the french necessibled abiny matance, much was said by them upon nurselves, it was suggested that the friend hounging propositions for settling the difference, in the hearing of all. This seemed to be ne ceded to by all parties. I noted nothing, there fore, us authorized, except what proceeded from Mr. Jones houself; and, consequently, no not, and cannot, attempt to report what was said by others. I do not remember to have heard Mr Citley speak after he west on to the ground. He and Mr. Graven were ordered to their posihous, after being instructed as to the word, and they kept their positions, eighty yards awart, and ul the hight ended. The conferences of seconds and friends were held exactly equi-distant from them, of course, long yards off

I made no proposition on the ground, and histed none, without consulting alr. Crittenden and Mr. Menetee; and I believe that every

It was at the instance of Mr. Graves himself, that I remarked to Mr Jones, immediatory previous to the fast exchange of shots: "If this is 'an excellent rifle, in good order," Mr. Cilley will propose to shorten the distance."- Mr. Graves had no contribute in his own shooting, at so long a distance, and directed me positively, if they missed repeatedly, to prevent a protongation of the affair, oy proposing closer quarters. The reason why Mr. Graves material upon Mr. Cilley's saying either "that he decimed to receive the note of Colonel Webb, because he was not accountable for words spoken in debate." or "that, or deciming to receive the note, he did not do so upon the ground of personal objection to Col. Webb, as a gentleman, 'was because Mr. Cilley had made both these declarations, as Mr. Graves alleged to his triends, to him, verbally. He would not be satisfied with the declarations announced, on the ground, and his friends could not advise him to accept them as satisfactory, for the reason that they admitted nothing reach Mr. Cittey did not admit in his written correspondence, and nothing which he did admit in his concersation, with Mr Graves. Mr. Graves could not be satisfied on if e field, whilst his adversary was before him with a riffe in his hand, with what he was got satisfied with betote, wittier mogang of a ben metely in his own

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!

THE attention of School Committees Teachers and Parents is invited to the expaniation of the 'JUVINIER READER ' a selection of every Kend and Lessons by a Teacher a new edition of which, revised and corrected, we have just published. It 13 believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and in need it was compiled at the request of many of our best l'eachers. The complet is a goutlaman of known ab blues and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth and iers believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted. The book comes at a very low price and has been adopted in a great many behools with decided approbation, and having been stereotyped, is free from the dan ger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books
